LOCAL COAL MEN ATTEND HEARING

Object to Pennsylvania's Proposed New Tariff Cutting off Car Supply

BIG OPERATORS TESTIFY

Monongahela valley independent coal operators who have no tipples to their works and who have been loading railroad cars from wagons were represented by T. J. Crombie of Charleroi and Matthew Lynn of Dunlevy in a hearing before the public service commission at Harrisburg in opposition to a proposed new railroad tariff of the Pennsylvania railroad, which would eliminate the necessity of the railroad furnishing cars to operators who do not fill cars from a tipple.

There were about 50 operators together with the representatives of the railroad company and some tipple operators who mine coal all the year

R. H. Large, coal traffic manager of the Pennsylvania railroad, was the chief witness. The topic of car shortage occupied most of the discussion. His contention and that of the large operators who mine coal al lthe year round is that when the coal market is abnormally high, as at present, every farmer and land owner who has an outcropping of coal on his land digs coal and hauls it in wagons to the railroad siding.

The big operators say the farmers load cars slowly and reduce the number of cars to be had for the faster loading concerns.

Small coal operators contended that their loading from wagons did not necessarily delay cars, since they loaded promptly.

Labor scarcity was blamed partly on the small operator by John C. Graham a coal operator of Butler, who testified that to hold his men during the labor shortage in the bituminous region he restorRODINLU tuminous region he resorted last summer to the giving of diamond stick pins as bonuses.

POLICE GUARD STREET USED FOR COASTING

Ask Aid of Parents in Enforcing Regulations—Some Violations of Rules Reported—Hours for Coasting Between 3 and 5.

The police are again busy enforcing the coasting rules on Fifth street. From 3 until 5 o'clock are the hours set apart during which children will be guarded in sledriding on the street, and their enjoyment of the sport must be confined to these hours.

"Parents should help" said Chief of Police Albright this morning in speaking of the coasting. "The police are willing to do their utmost to protect the children during the hours set apart, but they insist that the children be kept from the street at all other times."

It sems there has been a violation of the coasting r ules of late. Children have been using the streets at a time other than that set apart for them.

COMPENSATION HEARINGS HELD

Referee Dunn Inquires Into Four Claims in Monongahela District

SETTLEMENTS ARE REACHED

Thomas J. Dunn, of Pittsburg, referee for the Eighth Compensation district and his secretary, S. P. Dolan Thursday held hearings in city hall at Monongahela in four cases.

The first was that of Charles Cramer against the Donora Construction company and it was quickly settled by payment in full of the claim.

In the case of David Pringle against The American Window Glass company, the plaintiff claims that he lost the sight of his right eye owing to a rupture caused by heavy lifting at the plant on July 6 last. The compensation act allows 175 weeks at half pay for the loss of an eye and this is the claim of the plaintiff at the rate of $8.50 per week.

In the case of Frank Arthur versus Pittsburg Coal company, Arthur claims compensation from September 1 to January 1, for a rupture which he alleges he sustained while lifting a mine wagon at the Mongah mine. The hearing was continued until the physician can be summoned who attended him.

The last case was that of Mrs. Mary Roskowski who claims compensation for the death of her husband who died or was killed at the Mongah mine on November 6. Mrs. Roskowski has five small children. A confusion occurred as to the place of holding the hearing and attorneys and witnesses did not appear. It will be considered when Referee Dunn returns in about a week or ten days.

YOUNG FOLK'S SLEDDING PARTY HIGHLY ENJOYED

IMPORTANT WAR ORDERS FILLED

Reported That Practically All Barbed Wire Needed Abroad Has Been Made

MILLS RUSHED TO CAPACITY

That war orders of the new sort of barbed wire used in the war zones of France and other European countries have about been filled is the information that has come out along the Monongahela valley. One steel concern is said to be preparing to start next week on domestic orders entirely, the war trade having for the present been exhausted. This company was engaged extensively in the manufacture of barbed wire for which special machinery was required.

So far as is known no new war orders have come to the Monongahela valley lately. All the mills however are rushed to capacity. Among the larger steel mills are those located at Monessen, Donora, Clairton, and Homestead.

DIVORCE DECREES ARE HANDED DOWN BY IRWIN

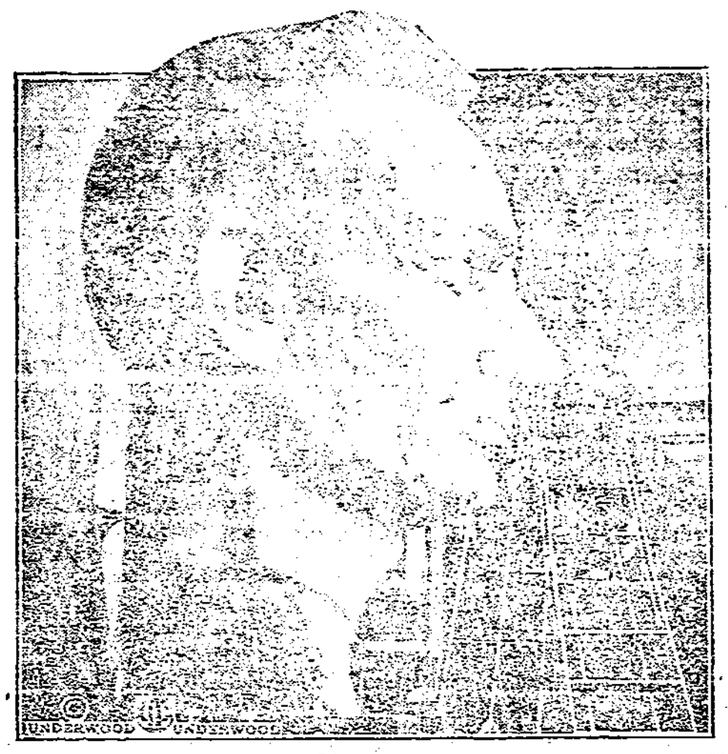
Only One Refused—Number From Charleroi Among List of Mismated—Total of 41 for the Entire Term

Eleven more decrees in divorce have just been handed down by Judge R. W. Irwin and one was refused. This completes the cases before the court for this term, as it is doubtful if the testimony of any more can be presented in time for consideration before April. This makes a total of 41 divorces granted by the local court, and four refused during the week.

The divorce of Martin E. Frank, of New Eagle, from Elsie May Frank, asked for on the grounds of cruel and barbarous treatment, is refused. In the opinion of the court in this case the testimony falls short of establishing the charge of cruel and barbarous treatment. The court is of the opinion the whole trouble between the couple is summed up in the concluding paragraph of the libellant's testimony w hich follows: 'The long and the short of the matter was simply this: She had been indiscreet and urged me to marry her to cover up her shame; then it was apparent soon afterwards that she had nothing but hatred for me, and was determined to pursue such a course of conduct toward me in order to compel me to separate myself from her."

Those just granted are as follows: James Sharkozy, Canonsburg, from Elizabeth Sharkozy, infidelity; Evaline Hart Stockman, Charleroi, from George H. Stockman, desertion; Grace Gaston Ryan, Washington, from Joseph L. Ryan, cruel and barbarous treatment; Dora Anderson, Washington, from Albert Anderson, desertion; Willis R. Paxton, North Charleroi, from Lulu Paxton, infidelity; John T. Davis, Charleroi, from Hattie Davis, alias Stella Good, bigamy; Mary I. Layton, Washington, from Isaac M. Layton, indignities to person; William Tillman, Van Voorhis from Bessie Tillman, desertion; Laurentine Chambordon, McDonald, from Numa Chambordon, cruel and barbarous treatment; Sarah Porturico, Donora, from Vaso Porturico, cruel and barbarous treatment; Antonio Rossi, Marianna, from Francesca Nero Rossi, infidelity.

An Heroic Statue of Lincoln



So mightily has the memory of Lincoln grown in the last few years that unwittingly we think of him as of heroic size, looking down upon the country cemented by his wisdom. It seems fitting therefore that the statue by George Grey Barnard possesses such majestic proportions.

VACCINATION TROUBLE SETTLED; ALL IS SERENE AT SUNNYSIDE

Backing State Department Gave Teachers Has Wholesome Effect on Parents Who Objected.

The differences which have existed at the Sunny Side public school, in Forward township, Allegheny county, are gradually adjusting themselves, a number of the pupils whose parents refused to have them vaccinated having capitulated, the necessary surgical operations performed, and the children are now in school. Some few still remain obdurate, but it is expected they, too, will conform to the requirements of the law in a short time, and the sessions of the school will then proceed without any disturbing factors. The fact that the state health authorities offered to stand back of the teachers and the school board seems to have had a beneficial effect on those who endeavored to have the state regulations set aside in their behalf.

FORMER COUNTY DETECTIVE JUST BACK FROM THE BORDER

Bert Laird, who resigned his position as county detective to go to the border with Troop H of Pittsburg, a unit of the First Pennsylvania cavalry, is back home. He expects to be mustered out within a few days.

"It might have been exciting if there had been any fighting but after the first few weeks it was rather tiresome," says Laird. Everything was quiet when his command started north. The First Pennsylvania cavalry was on the border for six months.

Former County Detective Laird has a brother, Ray Laird, who is still on the border as a member of an Ohio regiment.

FAMILY ESCAPE BY ROOF ROUTE

Woman and Four Children Have to Crawl Through Window to Avoid Fire

NEIGHBOR SPREADS ALARM

Alarmed by Arthur Winstone, a neighbor, breaking through a door to inform them that their house was afire, Mrs. James Pearce and four children escaped by crawling to the roof and then to the ground at Essen, a Monessen suburb early this morning. They failed to recover any of their clothing, escaping in their night clothes.

Winstone discovered the fire from his own home and tried to alarm Mrs. Pearce. Then he broke through a door to aid her and her children. They were unable to make their way from the second to the first floor because of the smoke and flame and climbed through a window to the roof. The house and contents were destroyed. Firemen were called, but there was no water pressure. The loss will be $1,500.

STIRRING SERMON PREACHED AT METHODIST EPISCOPAL CHURCH

A stirring service featured by a stirring sermon by Rev. C. A. Hartung at the Methodist Episcopal church made the Thursday evening meeting of the revival effort now in progress conspicuous. Rev. Hartung spoke of the theme of the safe refuge and the unsafe, declaring Christ to be the safe. An inspiring song service was conducted. The Wednesday evening service likewise was inspiring. It was notable because of the number of converts, there being 14. Special music was rendered then by a male quartet. Wednesday night was Sunday school night.

VIEWERS TAKE UP DAMAGE QUESTION

Lincoln Avenue Grade Hearing Held Today in the Council Chambers

OWENS' CLAIM COMES UP

Important testimony was taken today by the Washington county board of viewers, Grant E. Hess, William Wylie and J. E. McCurdy into the matter of damage alleged to have been done to the property of Thomas Owens on Lincoln avenue near Fourth, by the change of grade that was incidental to paving. The hearing was held in the council chambers, with members of council and different interested persons with their attorneys present. Another matter coming up was that of the claim of Dr. H. H. Carothers of damages for Fourth street improvement. An award of $600 was made him in a previous hearing by the viewers and an appeal was taken

The Owens' claim is made by reason of damages to his brick house on the west side of Lincoln avenue, he asserts by reason of the drop in the paving from the previous grade of approximately three feet. He maintains that the cut resulted in damage to the foundation and brickwork of his home, starting a crack zigzagging through the brick. That his property was damaged to the extent of $5,000 or $6,000 is his claim.

ORPHAN LAD OF NORTH CHARLEROI DIES AT HOME OF HIS GUARDIAN

Mathias Moon, aged 17 years, colored, died at the home of his guardian Charles Simpson Thursday morning. For several years the boy had no use of the left side of his body, it being paralyzed. He was also subject to inward convulsions since a mere child and was in this condition when he died. He was an orphan and came here about a year ago to make his home. His body was taken to Vanderbilt today to be prepared for burial.

COSTS MONESSEN RUSSIANS $58 TO BREAK QUARANTINE

Diptheria Outbreak Not Feared by Them and They Attend Church in Violation to Rules.

It cost Frank Kaze and Peter Moulek of Monessen $58 each to go to church at the Russian Christmas celebration recently. At a hearing before Justice of the Peace J. A. Watkins Thursday they plead guilty to breaking diptheria quarantine and were tendered the fine of $50 and costs. In Monessen quarantine regulations are strictly enforced, and the violation of them brings prompt and decisive action.

ANOTHER NEW RAILROAD

Greene county has a brand new railroad and if you please it is just as good as the most of them have been in the past. It is a paper road, pure and simple, so far, with hopes that all plans aremore than maps for round table and corner grocery discussion.

In the last two decades Greene county would average possibly a railroad a year. It has two "regular" roads and is getting a look-in on another for which the construction work is being started in the Wheeling district.

The latest information is that the Pennsylvania will build a line from Besco, just back from the river above Brownsville to Clarksville. The engineers are making surveys and the story comes straight that contracts will be awarded. It may be that the Pennsylvania means business.

Such a road will traverse a good territory along Ten Mile creek and to the mind of a layman would be a good railroad move. Up in that section coal developments are centering. The Pennsylvania is well located for entrance into the Greene county fields and coal developments will inevitably mean the extension of the Pennsy lines. Recent transactions all point to activity within the near future in Greene. Consequently the present railroad with its branches to Hackney and Waynesburg may be more than a guess.

THE BELLE VERNON ROAD

Dismissal of the petition of citizens asking for the Charleroi-Monessen bridge to be freed has had one result, that of encouraging activity of Monessen citizens in pushing the movement for the construction of a good road along the river from Monessen to Belle Vernon. Once they get that road, they say they will be in line to help along other projects which now are only in course of formation.

The good roads issue is a big one. It is a big one in Washington county and a big one in other counties. Never were the needs of the country at large so great as they are now in the way of improved thoroughfares and never was the issue before the people squarer. Road improvement and maintenance is costly, but essential with present day progress. Old Dobbin and the one-horse shay may have gone out of style, but if so the speeding automobile has succeeded them.

Every thoroughfare along the Monongahela valley that is improved is going to help every other section. Back a few years ago, when a comprehensive scheme of road improvement was contemplated by the state, a river boulevard project was enthusiastically endorsed. It was never carried through for the simple reason that the people decided the time was not propitious for the state to assume the necessary obligations. Since that time there has been piece meal construction of roads along the river, until there is a fair route from the upper valley to Pittsburg. Some sections remain to be closed up, however, and on the east side of the river the Monessen-Belle Vernon road is one.

WHAT OTHERS THINK

GUARDSMEN SETTLING

According to a report from Arizona, many of the guardsmen are going to remain on the border permanently. Not as soldiers, however. They have fallen in love with the country and are planning to take up residence there.

When the National Guard was first sent to the Mexican border there was much amusing and interesting comment on the first impressions the country made upon the men from northern and smaller states. The vastness of Texas was one eye-opener. There seem to have been others.

Cattle raising has attracted many of the militiamen to Arizona. But men of all sorts of trades and occupations are seeking opportunities for making their living there. Some will go home first to move back as soon as they can arrange it. Others will be permitted to receive their dismissals in Arizona without going back to the point of mobilization.

Of Course, Arizonians can understand it. To them, we suppose, the climate, the people, the many opportunities their state offers are all irresistable attractions. The militiamen can't be blamed for not wanting to leave. It's probably a good thing for that state too. Arizona will gain many new and desirable citizens during the coming year. But Arizona is not the only gainer. It's good for the whole country to have citizens move around a little now and then, to have the East and West and North and South find out about each other. The more the people of one section of the country understand and enjoy traits of the other sections, the better for us all.—New Castle Herald.

PICKED UP IN PASSING

A prominent physician upon opening the door of his consulting room asked:

"Who has been waiting longest?"

"I have," spoke up a man in a stentorian voice. "I'm your tailor, I delivered your clothes four weeks ago."

One of the big east structural companies having a contract to build a traveling crane above a coal-handling plant at a dock, decided to employ a surgeon to remain "on the job." The honored one was given a note which read: "Please hand this to the foreman in charge and tell him that you will look after any of the men who may be injured by falling from the work." The doctor without ado went out to the plant. He looked up at the false work that was being built in preparation for the crane and it was so high that the men on it looked like liliputions. He thought of the possibilities if one of them should fall to the dock and he said to the foreman, "I think the company made a mistake It should have addressed this letter to an undertaker."

Sarah, the little daughter of a clergymen, was asked if her papa ever preached the same sermon twice. After considering a moment, she answered: "Yes, I think he does, but I think he hollers in different places."

Brown-Tail Moth Gone.

Success seems to have attended the efforts to exterminate the brown-tail moth, which has for years been the object of a warfare by the United States government as well as the states which have been ravaged by this pest. Lighthouses along the coast of Connecticut and Long island have been examined but no migrating moths have been found. Fewer moths have been found on trains coming from infested regions during the season when the moths are flying than in any previous year. Hence this serious pest is believed not to be spreading, if indeed not actually in its decline.

Haiti's Sans Souci.

The palace of Sans Souci, erected by Christophe, the black leader of Haiti, is situated in the hills above the level vale of Milot, with a background of forest and a foreground sprinkled with the palms and huts of simple cultivators Dilapidated ruins and a tangle of tropical trees are the rueful remnants of the glory that was once the palace without care and the garden of delight of the king of slaves

It was off the coast of Haiti, near the site of this palace, that the flagship of Columbus was wrecked, and here he left most of his men when he returned to Spain for aid. Upon his return to the settlement, which he called "La Navidad," he found the whole party dead, including an Englishman named Allard and an Irishman, who was entered on the Santa Maria's books as William of Galway.—National Geographic Magazine.

The Vampire.

This is the vampire: Always inert sitting still, spending five to seven hours a day looking out the window on the street. Nothing to give, and always giving it. Seeking amusement, entertainment, but never affording any. Taking, but never giving. Sitting quietly and listening to others converse and confer, even when her presence is unwelcome, but saying nothing but an occasional yes or no. Primitive minded and narrow, with nothing to give, she drains others of ideas without retaining them—like a sieve. Thought passes through and beyond her without stopping. She acquires nothing, gives nothing, takes everything. One person alone with her becomes exhausted while she is revivified.—New York Globe.

White Eskimos.

Vilhjalmur Stefansson is having a difficult time with his "blond Eskimos" and by this time doubtless wishes that they were more brunette and ordinary. They hold up his men and rob them of everything removable, and utterly decline to consider the explorers a superior race. Yet when they are visited by an epidemic of influenza they attribute their misfortunes to the witchcraft of the strangers.

Hitherto newly discovered peoples have been greatly impressed by the white skins of the discoverers. The civilized races of Peru and Mexico respected the complexion of the Spaniards as much as they feared their firearms. A pallid physiognomy is one of the greatest assets of the white man who penetrates to regions where white skins are unknown.

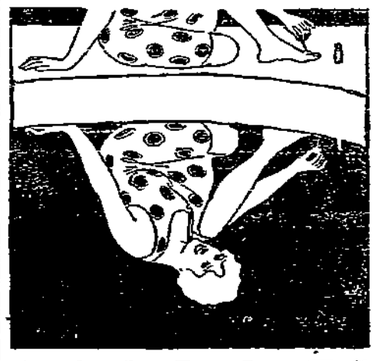
Corns Peel Right Off With "Gets-It"

2 Drops, and the Corn is a "Goner!"

When you've got to walk on the sides of your shoe to get away from those awful corn-pains, there's only one common-sense thing to do.



Use "Gets-It" Your Corns Won't Swell in Water. Besides, They'll Shrivel, Loosen and Peel Off!

Put 2 or 3 drops of "Gets-It" on the corn right away. Pain and inflammation will disappear, the corn will begin to shrivel from that instant—then it loosens and falls right off.

There's no other corn-remover in the world that acts like "Gets-It." No new discovery has been made in corn-removers since "Gets-It" was born. Don't forget that fact. "Gets-It" does away forever with the use of salves that irritate, bandages that make a bundle of your toe, plasters that half do the work, knives and scissors that draw blood. Use "Gets-It"—no more digging or cutting.

"Gets-It" is sold everywhere, 25c a bottle, or sent on receipt of price by E. Lawrence & Co., Chicago, Ill.

"Sold in Charleroi and recommended as the world's best corn remedy by Piper's Drug Store, Frank J. John."

"FAGGED-OUT" WOMEN

Will Find a Helpful Suggestion in This Letter.

Overworked, run down "fagged out" women who feel as though they could hardly drag about, should profit by Mrs. Carter's experience She says. "I am the mother of six children and I got so weak and run-down that I couldn't eat anything and it seemed almost impossible for me to get around and do my work. I tried different doctors' remedies without benefit. I saw Vinol advertised and decided to try it, and received so much benefit from the first bottle that I continued to take it, and it has built up my strength and made me strong and well. I consider Vinol the best medicine I have ever taken, and advise all weak, run-down women to try it." Mrs. Bessie Carter, State Road, N. C.

If all the tired, overworked, run-down women in Charleroi could only realize how our delicious Vinol, which contains beef and cod liver peptones, iron and manganese peptonates and glycerophosphates. supplies the vital elements necessary to build up blood and strength, we wouldn't be able to supply the demand.
